Mike Paul
CEO, National Swine Registry

For the members, by the members

The National Swine Registry will begin its 20th year of existence in July. The American Yorkshire Club, the Hampshire Swine Registry and the United Duroc Swine Registry joined forces under one roof in West Lafayette, Ind., on July 1, 1994. The American Landrace Association became a member of the National Swine Registry in 1998.

This is recognized as one of the most notable events in the purebred livestock world, due to the foresight of the boards of directors from four separate purebred swine associations to put their members first by providing one home for their registrations, genetic evaluations, advertising needs and avenues to exhibit and merchandise their genetic programs.

Now, this sounds like a pretty simple plan, but we are all human, and the first thing we want to do is to protect our ‘turf’ – in this case, our respective breeds. As the first meetings of the newly elected NSR Executive Committee were held, one of the policies put in place was the “Super Majority” rule. This policy stated that if all three of one breeds’ representatives voted against a motion, it would not be allowed to pass. During this time, the NSR staff was charged with breaking down ad content. For example, if there were two Duroc photos, one Yorkshire photo and one Hampshire photo used in an ad, 50 percent of the ad revenue was allocated for the Durocs, 25 percent for the Yorkshires and 25 percent for the Hampshires. And if a special project was presented by a breed, that breed was held responsible for the costs.

I remember the day Jack Rodibaugh, noted breeder and one of the biggest supporters of the formation of NSR, said if a program or project would benefit the members of one of our breeds, it would benefit the members of the other breeds. I feel this was the turning point in how business was conducted at NSR – the Super Majority policy was removed. Now, when business is conducted during the NSR Executive Committee meetings, committee members’ actions show they are committed to doing what is right for the entire NSR membership.

This year, the NSR Annual Meeting will be held Tuesday, March 19, at the Four Points by Sheraton Hotel in West Lafayette, Ind. It begins at noon with a luncheon where the top recorders are recognized. At 1:30 p.m., the NSR Annual Membership Meeting will be held, followed by individual membership meetings for the Duroc, Hampshire, Landrace and Yorkshire breeds. I encourage all of you to participate in these meetings, if possible. Your input is important to the future success of NSR.

I want to recognize several board members and NSR Executive Committee members as their terms expire following the NSR Annual Membership meetings. First, Jim Grimm has served six years on the AYC board and the NSR Executive Committee. For the past two years, Jim chaired the executive committee and his leadership was much appreciated by this CEO. Terry Shaffer served six years as an NSR Executive Committee member. Terry provided insight from several different arenas in the swine industry, and his commitment to the NSR will be recognized for years to come.

Larry Moore served six years as an AYC board member, and the insight from his part of the world will be missed. Ron Iverson served six years on the HSR board and was recognized by his peers by being elected in 2012 to serve on the NSR Executive Committee. Carl Stein served six years as a UDSR board member and is currently serving his second term on the NSR Executive Committee.

With this said, I would like to welcome the newly elected and re-elected board members. Joe Roberts will be seated as a director on the UDSR board. Dusty Cain will be seated as director on the HSR board. Rachelle Bailey and Scott Lawrence were re-elected to their second term on the NSR Executive Committee.

If you cannot attend the NSR Annual Membership Meeting and have an item or issue that you would like placed on the agenda, please contact your respective board president or board member, or give me a call at the NSR office at 765.4363.3594, extension 107, or send me an e-mail at mike@nationalswine.com.

On Saturday, June 30, 2012, I pulled into the NSR office and prepared for the three-hour trip to Louisville, Ky., for the NSR Summer Spectacular with four people I knew little about. As I was getting out of my car and walking into the office, I had no idea what the future held for me—let alone what I was going to experience the rest of the week.

The car was packed full with luggage, supplies needed for the week and the whole crew—Cally Hass, Dr. Justin Fix, interns Ali Harwell and Corey Carpenter and myself. The trip was somewhat relaxing as we all talked and got to know each other. Little did I know, it was going to be a different story when we arrived.

Growing up an active American Junior Shorthorn Association (AJSA) member, serving on the board of directors for three years and being the Vice President for one of them, I was very familiar with national junior shows—or, so I thought! My past experiences serving on the Indiana Junior Beef Cattle Association Board of Directors helped me have a sense of what it took financially to put on a 1,500+ head show and ways to help fund it. So, I had an idea of how the NSR Summer Spectacular would be run. Although I wasn’t going into this “blind,” I still didn’t realize how much I was going to learn.

Just like a lot of you reading this editorial, I have an absolute passion for exhibiting livestock. I am fortunate to have four older brothers and parents who share that same love. Since 1994, I had never missed a Shorthorn Junior National—until this past summer. I was that die-hard showman that did it all. I had the honor of serving as the National Shorthorn Lassie Queen and was fortunate enough to receive scholarships through the AJSA. At the National Junior Shorthorn Show, I participated in team sales, speech contest, art and crafts, herdsman quiz and my two favorite educational contests—showmanship and the judging contest. Of course, my favorite was still exhibiting and competing in the shows.

But looking back, I had no idea how much hard work and attention to detail it takes to put on a show the magnitude of the NSR Summer Spectacular. Like I mentioned, as an AJSA Junior Board member we had responsibilities—but as an exhibitor, these details do not always cross your mind. I never realized how much time and effort my advisors put into events such as these. While analyzing and taking in all of the information I could during the NSR Summer Spectacular and following Cally around (bless her heart for putting up with a shadow all week and trying to run a show), I realized this was going to take a lot of work and to be honest, I was scared. I even asked myself, “Can you take this on?”

By nature, I am a very driven and motivated person. When I do something, I truly want it to be the best. I love competition and challenges, just like competing in livestock judging contests. When I judged at Black Hawk East and Western Illinois University, judging was my life. When it came to a contest, I had this sense of confidence that came over me. It was not about beating the person in front of me in the reasons line, it was about doing my best and pulling through for my team.

When I was scared and unsure of myself during that week of the NSR Summer Spectacular, I had a pep talk with myself, like I did right before a judging contest. I told myself, “I can, and I will,” because I knew I had a new team to work with and needed to do my part.

Seven months later, here I am. Although I still may be the “newbie,” things are starting to get easier, and I now have a sense of “normality” in my life. It is still crazy to think, just seven months ago I was “thrown into the fire” at the NSR Summer Spectacular and doubted myself. But as I reminisce about that experience, it was the best thing that ever happened. It was a challenge I overcame, simply by taking the chance to learn, meet new people and most importantly, believing “I can, and I will.” There’s not a doubt in my mind now, and I am beyond thankful for this opportunity here with the NSR and AJSA. I am not one to talk about myself, but I am happy I had the opportunity to share this. I want all of you who took the time to read this to remember you can do anything you set your mind to. Like my Papa Joe always told me, everything in this life you do is based around your attitude and perceptions. I am truly lucky that I can say I am doing what I love, and loving what I do.

Jen Gillespie
Director of Marketing & Communications

Looking back

Just a year ago at this time, I sat in my new office in West Lafayette, Ind., writing my first editorial for Seedstock EDGE. It was the big Showpig issue, and I had no idea what the weeks and months ahead had in store for me. Now, I sit writing my last editorial, which is undoubtedly bittersweet.

I could not have asked for a better start to my career. NSR took a leap of faith when they hired a young graduate out of Oklahoma State with very little background in the purebred swine industry to lead the Marketing & Communications Department. I, in turn, trusted my gut as I packed my bags and moved more than 600 miles from home to start my career in state I’d previously only driven through, in a town where I knew no one.

I have learned more in the past year than I could have ever imagined. I have met people and made friends who, I hope, will be a part of my life for many years to come. But above all, I have had one thing solidified in my mind – there is no better life than one made in the livestock industry.

Honing in on a certain “topic” for this editorial was a struggle for me. It is one of those times when words can scarcely do justice. In hopes of inspiration, I started reading through my past editorials and realized that they sum up my thoughts better than anything else could. So – the following is a reflection of the sentiments I have shared in the past 12 months and how they apply not only now, but throughout life in general.

#1 – Take risks and embrace the unexpected. Things don’t always go “as planned,” and that’s OK – we adjust and adapt. I did not foresee the opportunities that were presented to me and led to my decision to take a chance with a new career – just as the members and staff of NSR did not likely expect the timing of my resignation. However, I truly believe that beyond the initial adjustments that have to be made, there is great opportunity on both sides of these unexpected events. A door has opened for me to take the next step both personally and professionally, as one has opened for NSR to seek the next addition to the team, who will bring new talents and ideas to the table.

#2 – Attitude isn’t everything – but it sure does make a difference. Even in tough situations, a good attitude can take you a long way – and beyond that, optimism is contagious. Pass it on.

#3 – It’s the people, not the pigs, that make this industry special. We all love good show stock. If we didn’t, we wouldn’t be doing what we do. Every breeder wants to breed, raise, sell or show the next “great one.” But at the end of the day, it’s those around us – on the farm, at the shows and in the office – that truly matter. I’ve learned this not only through my own experiences, but through the stories I have written for this magazine. In each one, there is a common theme – one of friendships made and mentors who have changed the lives and paths of even the greatest names in our industry.

#4 – Being “raised in a barn” is not an insult, but rather one of the greatest privileges each of us has been granted. In fact, this concept was the inspiration for the column you see on the next page. Something I believe inspires all of us in what we do on a day-to-day basis is seeing the next generation grow up learning the values taught in the livestock industry. Let’s make sure we all do our part in protecting the integrity of this industry, so the next generations may continue to learn from and enjoy the benefits of being raised in a barn.

#5 – A life in agriculture isn’t necessarily a “fairytale” – yet for those of us in it, we are truly living our dream. And in spite of inherent obstacles and tough realities that are a part of the agricultural lifestyle, we should never give up on that dream.

#6 – Count your blessings. This is one that, perhaps, we do not do enough. I have been blessed beyond words and, you can bet, I count my time at NSR – and all of you – among those.

I want to thank each of you, from the bottom of my heart, for letting this girl from the middle-of-nowhere Kansas be a part of what you do. You have made a tremendous impact on my life in many ways you may never know. And cliché as it may be, I believe in these words: We all take different paths in life, but no matter where we go, we take a little of each other everywhere.

Stress Negative We felt that this boar was so special from the aspect of true stoutness of structure. Most believe structure refers to bone size or circumference of bone. But true structure refers to the makeup of bone, skeleton, muscle and skull. Living Legend is one of the stoutest-structured sires you’ll see anywhere, with unique extension of front end and unbelievable attractiveness. He’s extremely square from his blade and hip to the ground with unparalleled based-width. This boar has muscle to burn with a great rib cage that’s deep and broad. We believe that his siring ability will be like no other - pedigree, pedigree, pedigree! Call 1.888.486.7288 to book semen.

This is Part II of a four-part series focusing on the influence a foundation female can have, not only within a single herd, but within a breed.
Love at first sight. That’s how Mark Long of Lebanon, Ohio, describes the first time he saw CDO5 H Jane 44-2 at Chuck and Ben Olsen’s spring sale in 2007. When he hooked up his trailer that April and headed for South Dakota, hauling home a belted gilt that would go down in the history of the Hampshire breed was one of the last things he expected.

“I went there looking for a Yorkshire,” Long recalls. “I’d always liked Hampshires, but I hadn’t had much luck with them in the past. But when I saw her – she was everything I thought a gilt should be, regardless of her color. She just fit exactly what I was looking for.”

This gilt came from a line of productivity. She was sired by CDO5 Black Oak 85-6 and was out of a Southern Style sow. She had one full sister that was named Champion Gilt and topped the 2007 Southwest Type Conference sale at $4,900, and another that sold for $5,700 as a bred gilt. Olsens also kept a littermate sister that produced a long line of high-selling females. But none compared to the prolific 44-2 – known as the “Black Oak” sow.

Ben Olsen remembers his dad urging Long to take a look at the February-born Hamp gilt.

“She was a great-looking, stout, moderate gilt with good muscle shape,” Olsen says. “But my dad thought the most important thing was she was balanced, complete and correct – that’s what allowed her to be so successful when she was mated to all the different boars.”

In her first litter, 44-2 produced the Grand and Reserve Champion Boars at the 2008 Summer Type Conference – one was Judgment Day, purchased by Hi Point Genetics and Heimer Hampshires, and the other was Homeboy, purchased by Swine Genetics International. Hi Point also purchased their notable boar, Long Time Coming, out of 44-2’s last litter. These three boars sired a string of champions in the show ring that is nearly unparalleled and generated females that are still breeding on.

But the Black Oak sow didn’t just make boars – she produced an equally impactful set of daughters, the most notable of those coming out of her 18-litter mating to the popular 2008 Indiana State Fair boar, Unreal.

“Sows out of that mating (44-2 and Unreal) are the foundation of three or four different breeders’ herds,” says Mike Miller, sales manager at Hi Point. “One of those breeders is Jesse Heimer, who says he was lucky enough to purchase one of the 18-litter gilts.”

“That was one of the best Hampshire litters I’ve ever laid my eyes on,” he says. “Heimer bought 44-2’s 44-2 daughter, and he is now compiling an impressive track record as show pig sire. Heimer calls 18-14 the most influential sow in his herd.

“It’s an extremely prolific line of Hampshires,” he says. “The more times I can get 44-2 in the pedigree, the better it gets.”

When Long bought 44-2, he says he’d never spent that much money on a pig. But as it turns out, when it comes to love – there’s no price too high.

“Female decedents of 44-2 are notable of those coming out of her 18-litter mating to the popular 2008 Indiana State Fair boar, Unreal.

“She only weighed about 60 pounds at the time,” he recalls. “I didn’t tell my wife I spent $4,400 for a pig, but when she was doing the taxes that year, she found the bill and asked if I’d really spent that much money. But I was just in love with her.”

And what a wise investment love was. There is little doubt that 44-2 was a natural-born foundation female. Perhaps most importantly, Long says, she was a very maternal Hampshire sow.

“She had pigs that could excel in the show ring, but also excel in the farrowing crate,” he explains. “She never had a litter of less than 13 or 14 pigs, and her daughters and granddaughters have done the same. They have big litters, they milk, and they’re just good mothers.”

However, the breeder himself had a big hand in this sow’s success.

“Mark was the lucky one to take her home – from there, he got it done,” Olsen says. “He mated her to the right boars and cared for those pigs so they could reach their full potential.”

Long’s success went beyond making sound breeding decisions. It took patience and a willingness to do something that can often be difficult for breeders to do – retaining the top end.

“Mark has been steadfast in his commitment to keeping the best females,” Heimer says. “It didn’t matter if it was 44-2’s direct daughters or her granddaughters – he was committed to keeping the very best. And if you’re not willing to keep your best, it’s really hard to make progress.”

This commitment to bettering not only his own herd, but the entire belted breed, has earned Long a reputation among breeders and boar studs alike.

“We get calls about boars all the time,” Miller says. “But when Mark

“It’s an extremely prolific line of Hampshires. The more times I can get 44-2 in the pedigree, the better it gets.” – Jesse Heimer

Raising winners West Coast style isn’t all that different from the Midwest – it still takes lots of hard work. In the case of Ottenwalter’s Showpigs, it also takes a lot of help from the whole family and one great herdsman.
It’s the final drive of the Indiana State Fair Crossbred Classic. Only two predominately black boars are in the ring, and the crowd looks on as judge Ben Moyer, Ohio, makes his final pick.

The scene isn’t out of the ordinary for a crossbred boar drive. But both of these boars are sons of Shoot ‘Em — littermates bred by Ottenwalter Showpigs of Colusa, Calif.

Not many breeders can say what it feels like to enter the ring of one of the most noted shows in the country after winning both divisions with a pair of littermates. Owner Mark Ottenwalter will tell you that presenting those two boars, along with his herdsman Russell Pedrett, was one of his proudest moments. And as records will tell you, it was the fourth year in a row that an Ottenwalter-bred boar entered the ring to vie for the champion title.

“We target Indiana as our main show, and with that much success there, we’d like to keep it going,” Ottenwalter says. “But the thing that we’re really proud of is the boars that we sell breed on — they’re not just one shot wonders.”

No one can argue that the Ottenwalters have a good idea what will work because they keep careful records. Each of their more than 100 females is tested for the stress gene, so they never breed a carrier to a carrier. Besides knowing the stress status, they make notes on each litter.

“We can look back and say that we bred ‘X’ boar to ‘X’ sow and it worked, or maybe we need to breed her to one with more of something or another,” Ottenwalter says. “We do a lot of that.”

With such thought placed in each of the 1,500 showpigs that Ottenwalter Showpigs markets annually, it’s ironic that the beginning of the operation was more or less an accident — a junior project gone wild.

The Ottenwalters have earned a reputation for producing elite crossbred herdsires. Ottenwalter has so much faith in his program and genetics, he often retains interest in and uses his own boars. Pictured above is the Grand Champion Crossbred Boar at the 2012 Indiana State Fair, known as Shooter, that Hi Point Genetics of Illinois purchased for $75,000.

The scene isn’t out of the ordinary for a crossbred boar drive. But both of these boars are sons of Shoot ‘Em — littermates bred by Ottenwalter Showpigs of Colusa, Calif.

“My daughters started showing at the fair, and we decided — like any dummy — that we’d keep a couple as sows and breed them,” Ottenwalter says. “And then it just got out of control.”

Before they knew it, Ottenwalters were having a sale each spring and selling 70-80 head to local youth at their county fairgrounds. But four years ago, it became apparent that they couldn’t continue to grow the showpig business on their own. They needed help, and they found Pedrett.

“He’s been a blessing. He came in and made things a lot easier and helped us be successful,” Ottenwalter says. “A lot of it fell on Sandy and I for starting Ottenwalter Showpigs, but he has taken it a long way.”

Ottenwalter says that in many ways, Ottenwalter Showpigs was placed on the map because of Pedrett — he took their operation to the next level. Pedrett’s eye for quality and marketing know-how... the thing that we’re really proud of is the boars that we sell breed on — they’re not just one shot wonders.”

helped the Ottenwalter name grow. But according to Pedrett, it is Ottenwalter who deserves credit for the firm’s success. “His desire is what makes Ottenwalter Showpigs – when he wants something, he just does it,” Pedrett says. “We have developed a big enough network of people and relationships that we’ll talk to people and get new ideas, and he’ll just go with it – so it has really been a driving factor in our continual improvement through the years.”

But it’s what the Ottenwalters learned from their other enterprises that helped them find success in the showpig industry.

The Ottenwalters have always believed in working hard and working together to get things done. In fact, everything they do is together. The family farms 3,800 acres of specialty rice and moves more than 1 million yards of dirt each year as part of their leveling and habitat restoration business.

Four out of Mark and Sandy’s five children live within two miles of their home. And when rice harvest time rolls around, Sandy explains that out of the five machines running into the wee hours – four of them are run by family. A family she likes to keep well fed.

Five nights a week, Sandy prepares a smorgasbord of dinner options to feed the crew after long days of work. It’s not a social event, but rather a little gesture of appreciation for all of their hard work.

“We really are just a good, ol’ fashioned farm,” she says. “And that’s the way we liked to raise our kids.”

In many ways, it is the same way Ottenwalter was raised. His mother was his 4-H swine project leader, and now he is helping teach his grandchildren, who are just beginning to show, many of the same things she taught him.

“We have one [grandchild] in the ring now, and another one just starting,” says Ottenwalter. “So watching them is just really rewarding.”

Although Ottenwalter Showpigs continues to grow and change, the do-it-yourself attitude that founded the program has not.

And everyone contributes. Their boys run the leveling business and help clean out the pig barns, while their girls assist with farrowing and office work. The Ottenwalters’ children, Brandon, Jarrett and Crystal, all run tractors during ground preparation and leveling and then run harvesters, while their other daughter, Cassie, learns the office side of the farming. Sandy even takes her turn in farrowing – often sleeping on the couch so she can check on their first parity gilts every couple of hours. Pedrett isn’t the only outside help they have in the barns. His girlfriend, Amanda Wolf, lends a hand, literally, as one of the official Ottenwalter “pig-pullers.” Even Ottenwalter contributes his culinary prowess to help make sales successful.

During their February pig sale, he and his family made more than 100 of his famous Chile Colorado burritos to feed about 300 sale goers. This personal family touch will not change, even as they move Ottenwalters are known for wanting to keep their facilities on the cutting edge. One of their latest projects is an addition to the show barn that includes six boar feeding pens and a pig viewing arena.

Herdsman Pedrett says Ottenwalter’s continual push for improvement helps the operation reach for the next level.
Ottenwalter says his main goal for the future is simply to establish the stoutest set of females that he can assemble.
“"We have a good set of females now, but they can always get better," Ottenwalter says. "As far as winning – you can’t say I want to go out and win, you just have to build the best herd you can and hope everything clicks."
He knows that sometimes everything doesn’t click, though. Ottenwalter feels one thing that makes this industry so challenging is dealing with the disappointment when it doesn’t. He jokes that Murphy of Murphy’s Law must have been a pig farmer, but the highlights of success or seeing a plan through keeps him going.
Pedrett sees Ottenwalter Showpigs continuing to move deeper into purebred circles.
“There are a lot of opportunities in purebreds,” Pedrett says.
Not only are customers calling to request purebred prospects, but Ottenwalter and Pedrett are challenging themselves to put together purebred sires with the same success they’ve had in the crossbred circle.

Above all, Ottenwalter and Pedrett want to see their network of customers, breeders and exhibitors grow.
“Just continuing to grow these relationships we’ve built is more important than the success we’ve had showing pigs,” Pedrett says. “I think we’re more proud of that, actually.”

The next generation of Ottenwalter genetics will join the approximately 1,500 showpigs they market from coast-to-coast annually. In the future, Ottenwalter hopes to continue to build their sow herd and enter more purebred circles.

Russell Pedrett joined Ottenwalter Showpigs as their herdsman right out of college. Ottenwalter credits Pedrett with taking their operation to the next level with his good eye for stock and marketing know-how. Amanda Wolf, Pedrett’s girlfriend, often helps on the operation as well.

Protecting your investments is good business – no matter what type of business you are in. Swine producers have to invest in more than just real estate, equipment and maintenance. In many cases, the future of their firm hangs in the balance of new genetics. Whether it’s a boar that they’re sure will breed on, or a set of gilts that will serve as a foundation – producers need to consider insuring their animals and taking coverage.

The Seedstock EDGE staff visited with Marty Smith of Smith Sawyer & Smith, Inc., to learn everything producers should know about insuring their animals. After three decades in the business, Smith knows the intimate approach producers take when selecting their next generation of breeding pieces. While he understands that money cannot always replace the genetics lost, it can cushion the blow of losing such an investment. This is why Smith encourages producers to look into insuring their top animals.

“It’s a very simple program, but an integral part of protecting those breeding animals that are so important to your farm,” he says. “To some guys, that may mean a $1,000 animal and to others it is a $50,000 animal – but the value of each of those animals to the future of the farm is the same.”

TYPES OF COVERAGE

There are three main types of livestock insurance coverage: blanket, herd and individual.

Blanket coverage is likely included in your farm and ranch insurance policy. According to Smith, this is the way most people have their animals covered. This type of policy will cover livestock loss for fire, theft and vandalism – all of which are normally covered as part of your farm policy. However, it does not cover sudden death from illness, and any animal loss claims made will be assessed according to the market value rather than the breeding value of that animal, minus the deductible.

Herd coverage allows producers to insure a whole herd of animals, from beef or dairy cattle to a swine program. Smith says this can be a little more expensive and time consuming to put in place. Through this type of coverage, insurance agents and producers must figure the total worth of the herd and determine the average value of the animals.

Individual coverage is one of Smith’s specialties. This type of policy is designed for the special, more valuable animals producers own. Unlike the common blanket coverage included with farm policies, individual mortality programs insure animals against sudden death due to illness, in addition to the perils normally covered in farm policies.

“It covers death for any reason other than war,” Smith says. “Basically, that is the only exclusion. So if someone drops a bomb on your farm, that poor pig will not be covered.”

Aside from war, individual coverage picks up a lot of the risks that producers in the purebred swine industry face when buying elite seedstock including transportation, stress, illness and even animals fighting.

Individual coverage also allows producers to insure animals for a set “breeding value” rather than market value. Claims made under this type of policy are not subject to deductible.

“If the $20,000 boar that someone bought at Expo dies, regardless of if the producer purchased a 30-day policy or is on an annual term and regardless of where they may be on that term, they will get $20,000 back,” Smith explains.

WHAT DO I NEED?

For producers wanting to insure an individual animal, Smith says the process is straightforward.

In order to insure an animal, the insurance office needs: a value, signed application and valid health paper with identification of that animal.

Health papers can be obtained from a veterinarian of the producer’s choice. Applications will be filled out largely by the insurance office. and will just need to be signed and returned by the producer. However, the value can be somewhat trickier.

If an animal was purchased, producers can use the bill of sale, results of the auction or the check they wrote for the purchase as proof of that animal’s value. But if that animal was bred and owned by the individual who would like to insure it, Smith says the first step is then contacting the insurance office. In such cases at Smith Sawyer & Smith, Inc., Smith takes information about the animal from the producer and then consults breed representatives, fieldmen or trusted swine evaluators to help determine a value.

Although it is another small hoop to jump through to insure home-raised animals, establishing a value is still easily done, and done quite often. “As long as we have a valid health paper, and we know the value, it’s a pretty cut-and-dry, simple process,” Smith says.

WHEN DOES IT TAKE EFFECT?

Most insurance policies are in effect as soon as the signed application is in-hand and officially sent through the company’s system, according to Smith. But after 30 years in the business, Smith knows there are certain times that producers need insurance, and need it now. That is why Smith Sawyer & Smith, Inc., ensures that policies purchased at the NSR events they attend are effective immediately. Smith can guarantee this immediate coverage because of a special binding authority that he requests from his parent company.

“If I’m at Expo, that animal is insured before it leaves the fairgrounds,” he says. Smith Sawyer & Smith, Inc., strives to have policies effective immediately in such cases, because they know that hauling animals across the country, especially in extreme temperatures, can put extreme stress on them.

Smith recommends asking when the policy will be in place, since different companies may have different terms, and insurance agents may not have binding authority to insure animals that are bred-and-owned or sold private treaty immediately.

WHAT SHOULD I ASK?

Besides double-checking when your policy will be in place, Smith says it is always best to ask if you have any questions about coverage. Two common coverage misunderstandings that Smith deals with include coverage on bred gilts and animals that require surgery.

At Smith Sawyer & Smith, Inc., a bred gilt must be insured for 30 days before farrowing is covered. So if a producer purchases a gilt two weeks before she is due and insures her, she will be covered for the trip home, but not if she would die during farrowing. Another coverage question that sometimes arises applies to animals needing to be under anesthesia for a medical procedure. Any time an animal is put under for a surgery, that animal will not be covered if it perishes during the surgery, unless the insurance company was previously informed and an endorsement of that procedure was added to the policy.

Smith stresses if it is in question, it is best to ask.

WHAT HAPPENS IF I HAVE A LOSS?

When the unthinkable happens, it is important to know what steps to take. The first step is to contact your insurance agent so he or she can begin the claim process and inform the carrier or parent company.

Then, producers need to call their veterinarian. All animals will need to have a post-mortem examination for producers to collect their claim. The posting is conducted at the breeders expense, and the insurance company will provide the veterinarian with a form to sign saying they’ve conducted the examination and have positively identified the animal.

The last step is for producers to sign a proof of loss statement, also supplied by the insurance office. “It’s pretty simple,” Smith says. “But those steps have to be done.”

My gilt performed great all year on the Showmaster® 18% grower. She looked full early at jackpot shows and continued to add bloom and cover every day until we got her dialed in. Thanks to Showmaster® Feeds for making my show season a very memorable one when I won Reserve Grand Champion Market Hog at the 2012 Iowa State Fair.

- Tyler Frasher, Anamosa, IA

Showmaster® Feeds made it possible for me to have the Reserve Grand Barrow at the 2012 Illinois State Fair. Coming from a cattle background and not experienced in feeding pigs, Showmaster® products helped me look like a pig feeder expert. To be honest, all I had to do was feed Showmaster® Grower, a little bit of Bling® supplement and it took my $150 barrow to Reserve honors. I know it’s not on the label, but I believe feeding these products keeps the appetite, skin, and hair conditions unreal! “Trust the Showmaster® program!”

- Jake Bloomberg, Berwick, IL

There are many products available to everyone. I felt Showmaster® Sales Edge gave my champion barrow the extra edge he needed the last two weeks before the show. It gave him the extra bloom and shape to help make him a champion.

Show Mom Monthly

By Katie Maupin

Denise Fecke

Bonfield, Illinois

Husband: J.R. Fecke
Children: Trey—17, Cade—13

Proudest "Show Mom" Moment: It’s hard to name just one, so I guess I’ll have to say my first proud show mom moment. Trey won the barrow show at the state fair in 2006. It was his first year in 4-H, and his first "big" show. He was 11-years-old, but looked like he was 9. He was in the champion drive with his 344 pound cross barrow, and he weighed about 62 pounds (soaking wet) — by far the smallest kid out there. It seemed the audience couldn’t take their eyes off my kid’s pig, and I could hear whispers from the crowd, "who is that kid... he can sure show a hog." It was then that I knew this was going to be the first of many hog shows to come.

Favorite Part of Being a "Show Mom": Well, it is definitely spending time with my boys and meeting other people with livestock. It’s fun to share stories and ideas. Some of my best memories have been made at hog shows. I’ve often said that we need to have a hog show without the hogs — it would be much more enjoyable, but Trey and Cade think I’m crazy when I say that.

Items you’d never leave for a show without: We have a list that we have put together, and we don’t leave until all of the items on the list are on the trailer. I always make sure we have a cooler and snacks. If you’ve seen Snickers’ “you’re not yourself when you’re hungry” ads, then you’ll understand that all three of my boys (including my husband) need a Snickers bar at some point during the hog show.

Crisis Averted: Anyone who knows my crew knows they’re not very organized, which is why we have a lot of things we need to bring to a show. We were walking out the door for the 2012 World Pork Expo, and I happened to bring up the list. Everyone informed me they had gone through the check-list. So I asked them if they had the feeders. Uh-oh! Do you have a squirt bottle? Uh-oh! Do you have a hose? Uh-oh! Needless to say, we went back to the barn to go over the list and finish packing.

Trailer Driving Prowess: My trailer driving is best described as “get out of my way.” I am much better at driving forward than backward. But I have driven a trailer alone with two kids through the Rocky Mountains, the Appalachian Mountains and about a half dozen tornados, so maybe it should be “bring it on.”

“Show Mom” Tip of the Month: Always remember, it is just a hog show. And bring plenty of Snickers bars — you’re going to need them!

It is always a pleasure to have the chance to enjoy good hogs and great hospitality in Perry, Ga., and this year’s Winter Type Conference was certainly no different. While the mornings and evenings were plenty cool, the enthusiasm that all of the young kids brought with them made you forget the weather pretty quick. All in all, it was a very good Southeast Regional that was enjoyed by all.

This year’s Duroc show was judged by Bret Goff, Ind. Thank you, Bret, for your tremendous comments throughout the show. You did a very professional and thorough job of sorting a good set of red hogs.

The Champion Duroc Boar was exhibited by the David Martin Family of Iowa. This son of Headliner was really big bodied and could flat go. He was extremely sound and had tremendous dimension from end to end. Those that have been to Perry know that we show on Astroturf, and that it is not a very forgiving surface. This hog floated across the turf and had plenty of power and dimension. RAR Genetics took this popular champion back to Aplington, Iowa, and I am sure he will have lots of friends.

The Reserve Champion Boar was shown by Guy Jackson and Mike Johnson of Warren, Ind. He was a son of Big Buck and looked a lot like his daddy. Big-ribbed and huge-bladed, this stout-featured hog offered lots of dimension and stoutness in a very correct and well-designed package. He sold to Shaffer’s Goldrush and will get a chance to work alongside a tremendous set of red boars already assembled in Albany, Ind.

Dan’s Durocs of Manito, Ill., was next in the ring with what I thought was one of the really attractive power hogs in the show. This son of Big Ten had plenty of extension and was extremely athletic in his movement. He looked like a boar and acted like one too. RAR Genetics continued to add strength to an already potent set of boars at home by purchasing this one. Thanks, Rick and Ryan.

Rick Fogle of Isla Grande Farms was next in the ring with a pair of Ice sons. The younger boar was as tall fronted and good designed as any hog we have seen in quite some time. He was incredibly good on his feet and legs and balanced very well. Oliver Farms kept this one in Georgia, and if I was a betting man, I’d say we will see sons and daughters of this one next year.

The other Isla Grande hog had tremendous bone work and stoutness of feature. He was another big hog in his dimension and was ready to go to work. Critter Hill Farm of Illinois will give him a shot.

Kyle and Stephanie Banks were next in the ring with another Ice son. This one had tremendous bone work and was massive in his build. One of the stouter-skulled, bigger-ribbed hogs in the whole show – this one will get a chance for Tony Nye and Breeder’s Choice Boar Stud in Ohio.

Bill Range drove in a pair of littermates next. They were sons of Crown Royal, who needs no introduction to the red industry. The top-selling boar of the Duroc sale had tremendous shape and looked like he could make red barrows all day long. Harold and Justin Terry of Oregon will get a chance to make a name for this one – thanks, guys!

A really productive and quality set of females sold next. Leading off the sale was the champion shown by Adam and Tyler Gradert of Geneseo, Ill. This Champion Duroc Female was extremely big in her skeleton and tall fronted. She had a tremendous rib cage and could flat go. It’s hard to make hogs this big and productive that can still function properly, but this one did very well. Garrett See added her to his sow herd in North Carolina, and I’m guessing this long-time Duroc family will get lots of good out of this productive-looking female.

Chelsey Ammann was next in the ring with the Reserve Champion Open Gilt sired by Gator. Another female with lots of body and a solid and productive look – she was extremely flexible and loose in her makeup, while having an attractive heads-up look. She sold to JP Enterprises and Dave Guyer, Ill.

Maddie Fugate was next in the ring with her Reserve Champion Duroc Gilt from the junior show. I liked this one a lot. She looked like the kind that could make breeding hogs or class-winning barrows. She set her feet square on the corners and had plenty of power along with a flexible-working skeleton. Congratulations to the Fugate family on a great job!

Chelsey Ammann was in next with another class-winning female sired by Gator. Much like her reserve, this female was sound, productive and extra big in her skeleton. Riley Stringer will give her a new home and a fair chance.

Chloe Studebaker was in next with her class-winner sired by Rib Crib. This one was really interesting because she was long bodied, flexible and loose in her makeup. She set them square on the corners and maintained a really feminine look. She sold to Clint Parker of Butcher, Ga.

Chloe had a littermate to this gilt that sold on down the line that was the top-selling Duroc gilt in the sale. She offered a little more power and boldness, while still maintaining the same skeletal build as her class-winning sister. Adam Beck made a great purchase and will give this one a fair chance in Indiana. Thanks Adam!

David Martin was in next with a pair of gilts that are typical of DCM females. They were super sound and had a productive look to them. These gilts will make good females for their new owners and will be around for a long time as well.

Thank you to Kevin Wendt for the professional job selling purebred hogs, as always. A special thanks to the whole crew with the fairgrounds in Perry. You guys make it easy to have a hog show! Thanks to all the junior exhibitors for giving us a reason to do what we all like to do – show hogs and enjoy the company of one another. You are why so many of us do what we do on a day-to-day basis!

The great hospitality and warmer weather that we always find in Perry, Ga., makes the Winter Type Conference and the NJSA Southeast Regional two of my favorites for the year. The folks at the Georgia National Fairgrounds always have things in order and are ready with their great facility and even better hospitality.

This year our judge was Aimee Inskeep of Albany, Ind. Aimee has always had a great ability to see livestock. She came up through the ranks of the NJSA and served as president of the NJSA Junior Board. After graduating from Purdue University, she went back home to Shaffer's Goldrush. Thanks to Aimee for a very professional job.

Saturday evening, the event was turned over to Col. Kevin Wendt of Irwin, Ohio, and he found new homes for this good set of Hampshire hogs.

The Premier Sire award went to FUNK2 GRUS WIMBLEDON 7-3, owned by Shaffer's Goldrush. The Reserve Premier Sire was TSOBO GRUS CAPITAL INVESTMENT owned by Peters Hamps & Show Pigs, Diehm Showpigs, all of Indiana.

This year the Grand Champion Hampshire Boar was shown by Stewart's Duroc Farm of Waverly, Iowa. Doug's boar was big boned and footed with lots of structure. He carried his head high and had a shapely, level top. This boar had the look and width of chest to make a sire. He was a CDO0 Point Taken 257-3 son and out of a EC8 Titleist 122-6 sow. His new home is with the Fecke Family of Bonfield, Ill., and Heimer Hampshires of Taylor, Mo. This one should do a nice job. He sold for $15,000, and could be quite a bargain.

The Reserve Champion Boar honors went to George and Mike Watson of Mooresville, Ind. He was a very well-balanced, level-made hog with good muscle. Ricky Lyons of Mayo, Fla., bought a nice herd sire prospect here.

A daughter of TSOBO GRUS Capital Investment now had her turn in the auction ring. She was shown by Savannah Leigh Page of Jefferson, Ga. An extremely well-balanced gilt with lots of shape and design – she could go all day and really had the back that it takes to make females or maybe even a boar or barrow. Quad II Farms of Greenville, Pa., made a nice purchase here.

One of the biggest-ribbed, biggest-centered gilts in the entire barn was next. Exhibited by Maddie Fugate of Mahomet, Ill., this lady had structure and mass to burn. She was purchased by Mike Watson and Jerry Mclemore. Nice buy here.

We need more good hogs to fill the growing demand in Perry, Ga. Make your plans, take care of your business and 2014 will be even better.

A performance pedigree is more than a piece of paper – it’s your word. It says your breeding stock is a superior product backed by superior genetics and predictable performance.

It sets purebred producers apart from those who pass common, ordinary pigs off as breeding stock. And, a pedigree is something else. It’s the lifeblood of an entire industry, making it possible for you to have the leadership, research, programs, services and support you’ve come to expect from the National Swine Registry.

So, if you’re raising and selling purebreds, you owe it to yourself to register every litter. If you purchase seedstock for your commercial operation, you owe it to yourself to ask for the performance pedigree. Why not take advantage of more than 100 years of genetic selection and performance documentation?

Get the pedigree.

The Premier Yorkshire Sire for the 2013 Winter Type Conference was awarded to JM1 Exclusive 14-4, owned by Real McCoy Genetics of Bloomingburg, Ohio. The Reserve Premier Sire was awarded to TBRO1 Banchee 60-3 owned by Thompson Brothers Genetics of Pleasantville, Ohio. There was an impressive set of hogs out of these boars. Congratulations to both firms.

Garry Childs of Pelham, Ga., had the task of lining up the show and sale order this year at the Winter Type Conference. He was assisted by Brett Wheeler of Florida. Garry and Brett sorted the hogs in a brisk and efficient manner and had many positive comments to give to the crowd that gathered to watch the show. Thank you, both, for your time and comments – great job, gentlemen!

The Grand Champion Yorkshire Boar was the entry that won the second class of the day. This son of ARK1 Final Drive 130-10 is powerful; he’s wide in his chest, big centered, wide based and has a barrow-sire look. He is stout headed, above average in terms of bone and has a ton of muscle shape. Plus, his litter was extremely competitive at this show. Congratulations to both firms.

Garry and Brett sorted the hogs in a brisk and efficient manner and had many positive comments to give to the crowd that gathered to watch the show. Thank you, both, for your time and comments – great job, gentlemen!

The winning entry from the oldest class was next in the ring, exhibited by Aimee Inskęp and Lynsee Pullen, of Albany, Ind. This son of TPS0 GRUS Platt Attack 26-1 is captivating from a design standpoint. He’s elevated at the top of his shoulder, level designed and long fronted. He’s wide chested and square at the base of his chest floor and has a big, expressive top. He sold to Morgan Anderson of Fitzgerald, Ga., for $600.

The gilt show ran deep with quality and was enjoyable to watch this year. The gilt that found her way to the ring first was a special lady from a firm that has been producing several winners this past year. Congratulations to Randal and Terrell Buck of Eufaula, Okla., on your 2013 WTC Grand Champion Yorkshire Female. She is sired by TBR00 Starbuck 45-3. These kind are hard to make and even harder to let go. She looks like a Yorkshire brood sow should. She is stout headed, big and even in her toes, square built underneath and has a big, soft rib cage. She is sound and functional on her feet and legs and has a great underline. She made her way home with Dave Guyer and Family and JP Enterprises for the price of $2,000.

The Reserve Champion Gilt in the open show was an entry from Skylar Knapp of Greenfield, Ind. This daughter of ARK1 Final Drive 130-10 is a littermate to the Champion Boar. She is powerfully constructed at the ground, has a big, soft rib and is great in terms of balance and design. This sound-moving, wide-hipped brood sow prospect will make her way to Camby, Ind., with Adam Beck and Family for the price of $2,000.
Thompson Brothers Genetics of Pleasantville, Ohio, hit the ring next with their Class 2 winning entry. Broc’s gilt is sired by TBRO1 Banchee 60-3. This lady is powerful in terms of muscle, bone and rib shape. She is big toed, square and wide at her knee with a big hip. Stephen Cordle of Live Oak, Fla., paid $800 to take her home.

Kayla Bennington was up next with her winning entry from the oldest class of the day. This daughter of TBRO0 Power Fuel 38-3 looks like a potential brood sow. She is stout headed, big footed and has a great shape to her rib. She is sound on her feet and legs with a great underline. She sold to Pool Brothers, Inc., of Wrightsville, Ga., for $800.

Lucas Craycraft of Leesburg, Ohio, drove the winning entry from Class 4 to the sales ring next. This daughter of JM1 Exclusive 14-4 is wide made, soft middled and very functional in her design. Ron McLoon of Hazlehurst, Ga., paid $1,600 to take her home. The gilt that won the youngest class of the day was exhibited by Lindsay Daulton of Springfield, Ohio. This stout-made, feminine-designed gilt is sire by WGW9 Moonshine 72-4, and sold to Chris Vogel of North Fairfield, Ohio, for $600.

Kevin Wendt, thank you, for a job well done on the block. This event is not an easy task to pull off – it takes a lot of help from a lot of people. Thanks to all of you! I wish you all the best of luck with your spring sale season. See you in Belton.

HONKY TONK x MOONSHINE
Sold for $500 to Chloe Studebaker, Ohio
The 2013 Winter Type Conference Crossbred sale opened up with the Champion Crossbred Boar from Aimee Inskeep and Lynsee Pullen of Albany, Ind. He was a son of Big Alias and out of a Major Time sow. This boar was a heavy structured, really good-footed boar, with a good rear end and a big, grooved top. He has a new home with Holt Showpigs of Archer, Fla. He will make it easy to sell, competitive hogs for his new owner at $1,200.

The Catalyst son from George and Mike Watson of Mooresville, Ind., was named Reserve Champion Crossbred Boar. He was a unique blend of structure, muscle and mass. Stephen Cordle of Five Oak, Fla., will be on a lot faster track when he gets pigs by this good, young potential herdsire. He was the top-selling boar of the crossbred show for $1,700.

The younger of the two Shaffer boars was in the ring next. He was really lean and active. This guy was sired by Mile High and out of an Intoxicated sow. He has a new home at Olin Thrift’s farm in Folkston, Ga., at $1,100.

When you think of Kilmer’s you always think of muscle, and that is what you get with their Super Monster son. Kilmer Swine Farm of Monticello, Ind., did not plan on coming to the ring fourth with this guy. Phil Page of Jefferson, Ga., made a good buy here.

A very unique boar was in next from Sharrett Family Farms of Sabina, Ohio. He was the smaller-statured boar that had a huge center body, a big, wide top, a neat head carriage and was really sound structured. Libby Johnson got a interesting change here for $900. She took him back to Bloomingburg, Ohio.

The Champion Crossbred Gilt was shown this year by Jarvis Simmons of Brinthurst, Ind. She was sired by Papa Smurf and featured some outstanding traits. This gilt was really sound footed, level made and big ribbed with plenty of muscle. She has a new home at Emil Page Lyons, Jr., of Glen St. Mary, Fla., for $1,000.

Lindsay Daulton of Springfield, Ohio, was the exhibitor of the Reserve Champion Gilt. Here was a really correct gilt that was super-good footed and really sound on her feet and legs. She was a gilt that looked like a sow, yet had plenty of muscle. Chloe Studebaker of Eaton, Ohio, made a nice buy on this one.

One of my favorite barrow-makers was in the ring next from Gracee Stewart of Sabina, Ohio. She was a young gilt, farrowed Aug. 22. This lady was really square with her legs on the corners. She had a big, grooved top and a high head carriage. James Horton of Jamesboro, Texas, got a nice one here.

The judge for the crossbred show was Kevin Wendt of Irwin, Ohio, and I hope those folks in the stands at Perry listened to the descriptions of the hogs and Kevin’s reasons for placing the hogs as he did. It was not an easy show to judge, and in my opinion, he did a great job.

Thanks to Kevin Wendt for a good job judging and, as always, a great job of selling all the hogs at the Winter Type Conference.

RULES & REGULATIONS
Enter online at: www.nationalswine.com

*RULES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE  •  For up-to-date rules & regulations visit our website at www.nationalswine.com

General Information

1. Entries limited to a maximum of six head per exhibitor.
2. Recommended farrowing date range for project pigs is Jan. 1 and after (any age for prospective club pigs will qualify for this sale).
3. All purebred weanling pigs that show in the purebred class must have a pedigree that accompanies each entry or they will show as a crossbred. Pedigrees will be transferred to buyers by respective breed associations. All pigs must be ear notched. Pigs must be registered by April 12, 2013, or they will be charged a $25 rush fee.
4. Barrows, boars or gilts are eligible. Barrows and boars may be exhibited in separate classes, depending on the number of entries. Gilts will be shown in separate classes.
5. A minimum of 50 percent of the pigs shown per breed will be selected for the sale.
6. Weanling pigs must be entered prior to the show, and entries must be postmarked by March 21, 2013.
7. Weanling pig entry fees are $30. All late entries will be charged double the regular entry fee. The NSR reserves the right to reject any or all entries postmarked after noted entry date.
8. Entire entry fee must accompany all entry forms. No refunds.
9. Sale commission will be 15 percent.
10. Settlement will be made with the exhibitors about 30 days following the sale. In case of non-payment and/or insufficient funds by the buyer, settlement with the seller will be delayed until collection is secured. If an exhibitor has an NSR account that is past due, funds from the sale of their animals will be applied to their past-due account.
11. This event is sponsored by, and will be managed by, the NSR #AC303D000727.
12. Exhibitors must be an active member (junior or senior) of the National Swine Registry or they will be charged a $75 exhibitor fee.
13. The NSR will make all penning assignments.

Certificate Requirements

1. Since all states are Stage 5 of the Pseudorabies (PRV) eradication program, no testing is required for this show. If the animals come from a Pseudorabies qualified herd and from a Brucellosis validated herd, it is required that these numbers and the last test dates appear on the health certificate.
2. All health certificates must carry the statements: No raw garbage fed, and herd is not under quarantine for any disease condition and uses no Pseudorabies vaccine.
3. Remember, an original interstate health certificate must accompany each shipment, and each pig must have two copies of the original health certificate.
4. It is recommended that all pigs be vaccinated for mycoplasma, circovirus and swine influenza. Two injections given at least two weeks apart is preferred. These products are available commercially from several vaccine companies. This is not a sale requirement.

General Information

Entry fees for all entries must accompany the entry form and all late entries will be charged double the regular entry fees. The NSR reserves the right to close entries any time after the printed entry deadline. All entry fees are non-refundable. Entries must be postmarked by April 26, 2013.

All hogs entered at the WPX must have been owned by April 6, 2013, by the exhibitor.

Crossbred Boars: Status of your entry will be placed in the show and sale catalog (this is a show and sale requirement). A documented stress test must be presented at check-in.

All entries must be ear notched using the official NSR system (Starting with litter No. 1 in January and again in July each year). All entries must be recorded by May 20, 2013. After that date, exhibitors will be charged a rush fee. All exhibitors must be active junior or senior NSR members.

No entry or substitute entry will be allowed to show or sell without a registration certificate. Entries will be divided into classes by farrowing date. All hogs must be at the fairgrounds by 8 a.m., Thursday, June 6, 2013.

DNA Stress Statement

No known stress positive or stress-carrier Duroc, Hampshire, Landrace or Yorkshire animals will be allowed to be exhibited or sold at any NSR-sponsored event.

Such warranty is, however, solely that of the seller and not that of the American Landrace Association, American Yorkshire Club, Hampshire Swine Registry or United Duroc Swine Registry.

The American Landrace Association, American Yorkshire Club, Hampshire Swine Registry and United Duroc Swine Registry assume no responsibility or liability in connection with such warranty by the seller.

If any purebred animal sold at this conference is found to be a carrier of the stress gene, the purchaser has the right to receive full refund of the purchase price from the seller.

DNA testing for the stress gene must be done within 60 days of the sale date and all costs associated with the testing for the stress gene must be paid by the purchaser. The seller has the right to review the test results and the right to re-test the animal at a laboratory of his choice.

Cost associated with re-test by the seller is at the seller’s expense. There will be no refund of NSR commission from stress-carrier animals.

Exhibitors & Eligibility

Exhibitors must be an active member of NSR, or they will be required to pay the $75 NSR maintenance fee.

Entries are limited to four purebred boars (Duroc, Hampshire, Landrace, Yorkshire), four purebred open gilts (Duroc, Hampshire, Landrace, Yorkshire), two crossbred boars and two crossbred gilts per exhibitor. All entries must meet their respective breed requirements, or they will not be allowed to show or sell at the conference. All entries must be farrowed on or after Nov. 1, 2012, and must have at least six teats on each side.

Breeding Animal Sale

A minimum of 60 percent of the number of each sex (boars and gilts) shown will be selected for the sale. These animals will be selected with no set number selling from any single class. Animals not selected for the sale can be consigned to the sale for an additional fee of $20 per head. If the animal sells, the fee will be applied toward the sale commission. If the animal does not sell, the fee is forfeited.

All animals selected and cataloged for the sale must go through the auction. Sale commission will be 15 percent for all animals. If an animal that is selected and cataloged for the sale does not go through the sale ring, the exhibitor will be banned from exhibiting at NSR events for one year and will be charged 15% of the average selling price of their respective breed sale. This amount must be paid before reinstatement will be allowed. The exception to this rule will be if the animal has become injured or ill and the animal is inspected by a NSR staff member prior to the sale.

The NSR acts only as the agent between the buyer and seller. If proper payment is made by the buyer in a timely manner, the NSR will make settlement with the seller in approximately 30 days after the sale.

If an exhibitor has an account that is past due, funds from the sale of their animals will be applied to their NSR account.

Special Breed Requirements

By entering any animal in this conference, the owner warrants that the animal meets specific breed requirements.

Such warranty is, however, solely that of the seller and not that of the American Landrace Association, American Yorkshire Club, Hampshire Swine Registry or United Duroc Swine Registry, and the ALA, AYC, HSR, and UDSR assume no responsibility or liability in connection with such warranty by the seller.

If any animal sold at this conference is found to be a carrier of the color gene after being tested through the procedures approved by the HSR, UDSR, ALA and AYC, the seller agrees that he will promptly refund the full purchase price to the buyer.

There will be no refund of NSR commission from animals that are carriers of the color gene.

Shaffer’s Gateway
» This boar is truly a unique breeding piece. He hits the surface with a tremendous amount of bone and foot and is still wide and shapely up high. Also, he has a cocky “heads up” boar attitude and a great appetite. We expect him to generate showpigs and breeding stock alike.
» Thanks to Tracy Lorenzen for allowing us to purchase this boar.
» SEMEN AVAILABLE

JJI1 Snow Plow 11-1 X
CDO8 PSSS Husky 18-1
» Littermate to 4th-place boar at the NSR Fall Classic that sold to Small Town Genetics, Calif., for $10,000.
» What a genetic giant! It’s hard to find a boar with this much mass and power, and yet he still puts it together in a fault-free, balanced package. This, coupled with the fact that he came from a powerful, proven litter makes him a man among boys.
» Thanks to Tracy Lorenzen for the opportunity to own this boar.

Could be the best one we’ve ever raised! With Crown Royal & Triple Rock, you’ve got the best of both worlds. His mother is one of the best Triple Rock daughters born last spring. March 15 was a great day – our granddaughter, Brennen, was born 10:03 p.m., and I got back to the farrowing house at 11:06 p.m. to see the 28-litter had arrived. Great day! Great boar! Great litter!

We sold three of Bren’s littermate brothers in Austin. RAR Genetics, Dave Martin and Dan’s Durocs purchased the 2012 Hog College® Boar. 28-9 sold to Chuck and Ben Olsen, and 28-6 went to the Tom Kurtenbach family. There is power in the genetics – the first pigs look great!

MM Bren 28-8
Crown Royal x 16-8 Triple Rock
Limited Semen: $200

MM Elmo
Godfather 8-1 (God’s Gift x Freak Show) x Full Shift
Semen Available: $100

This boar has done a super job. He produced the Champion Duroc at the 2012 Okla. State Fair and a class winner at the 2012 Tulsa State Fair.

MM Red Monster
Crown Royal x 2-7 Triple Crown
Semen Available: $150

Son back on his mother. This boar is a power house! Littermate to Lean Value’s Royal One, he was our pick of this litter. This boar hurt his hip the first part of July, but now we have him going again.

MM Double Rock
Triple Rock x Triple Rock x Tom Cat
Limited Semen: $150

A huge thank you for the many positive comments and the contending bidders of this great boar. We are truly honored and humbled not only for the award, but because we know the real dedication and effort it takes to make them better. HeMan comes out of the heartbeat of our sow herd and as described by judge Ben Moyer, “a real HeMan of the boar show.” Thank you to Ryan Stohlquist for purchasing HeMan. He is sure to generate across a great set of sows.

Showpig.com has been extremely professional, easy, and enjoyable to work with. By advertising and selling show pigs on Showpig.com we are able to reach customers across the United States. The online auction website is easily accessible and fast. It is also easy for our customers to purchase our hogs that may not be able to make it to the farm due to travel and time restraints. — Shaffer’s Gold Rush

We look forward to working with Showpig.com exclusively as our online auctions agent and continuing to form relationships with new showpig customers though their services. — Real McCoy Genetics

“The best part about working with Showpig.com is working with the professional and experienced people that not only know marketing but also know and understand livestock and that is a huge advantage when communicating and sending information in.” — Conover Showpigs

The fourth edition of the NSR swine judging DVD is ready for your evaluation. This DVD is ideal for agriculture departments, 4-H livestock groups, FFA chapters or personal use. Designed to educate young people in performance traits, EPDs, indexes and swine evaluation, this DVD is for the beginner, but is challenging enough for the collegiate undergraduate as well.

March 2013
Steve Cobb & Family

Steve Cobb’s story began in rural northeast Arkansas, where cotton is king and his family had the only hog farm in the county. His dad had a handful of commercial sows, as well as a small cow-calf operation, but the livestock was secondary to the family’s crop production. So while his dad was busy planting and harvesting cotton, it became Cobb’s responsibility to take care of the pigs.

“I couldn’t wait to get out of school and get to the barn to check if we had any new litters,” Cobb says. “My interest was always in the livestock.”

Recognizing his son’s innate interest in pigs, Cobb’s dad offered to buy him a pair of registered Hampshire gilts to get started in the purebred industry. But Cobb had a different idea - he wanted Yorkshires.

“My dad didn’t know, but in a general farm magazine, I had found a clipping that I sent off to the American Yorkshire Club and got a subscription to the Yorkshire Journal. I always knew about the time the magazine was supposed to get here, and I would run to the mail every day,” Cobb recalls. “I basically read it cover to cover. Anyone whose name would have been mentioned in those articles, or anyone who had an ad of any kind - if they were prominent enough to have an ad in the Yorkshire Journal - to me, they were big time breeders.”

Cobb got his Yorkshire gilts, but they weren’t like the ones in his magazine - and that became more apparent with each litter. So when Cobb was in the 8th grade, his older brother, Roland, agreed to take him to any sale he wanted to buy new, better gilts. But on the morning of Jan. 5 - the day of the sale - Roland was nowhere to be found. As fate would have it, he had to help a neighbor with some last-minute harvesting. But as luck would have it, the consolation trip Cobb made with his brother just a few weeks later would mark the beginning of his influence in the purebred industry.

“My brother came to the house and said to me, ‘I know you’re down, but I’ve been reading in your magazine at mom and dad’s, and on the 20th of January in Columbia, Mo., they’re having something called a Type Conference. It says they’re going to be breeders there from all over the country – I’d like to take you to that.’ So, because I didn’t get to go to that sale, one of my first ventures was to the 1971 Winter Type Conference in Columbia, Mo. - and I was hooked.”

From that day, Cobb traveled to various farms and met people who became his mentors and friends in the swine industry - people like Claude Robinson, Homer Jenkins, Ruben Edwards, Roland “Pig” Paul, Glenn Conaster, Ernie Barnes, Jim Rutter, Jack Rodibaugh, Denny Shoup, Everett Forkner, Dr. Gordon Jones and various Yorkshire fieldmen.

“The older I’ve gotten – as I’ve watched my children and grandchildren do this - I am convinced that we’re all born with yearnings or certain things that we’re driven to,” says Cobb. And for him, that was raising Yorkshire hogs.

ARK... PRODUCING A WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE!!!

A sincere congratulations to Holly Head for her first Major win with this tremendous individual. We are very proud of Holly and the entire Head family for putting the extra work and effort that it takes to win at this level into this project. Also, a HUGE THANK YOU to Extension Agent Allen Davis for his influence with this one. Judge Brian Arnold stated in the championship drive at NAILE "this one exemplifies balance." We find "balance" at the end of the day is what helps us create more wonderful experiences for more families than any extreme traits.
